JONNY LARSEN'S STORY MOVED VOTERS 13.7 POINTS

WE ASKED THIS QUESTION TWICE. FIRST, AT THE START OF THE SURVEY:

"How likely are you to vote for Jonny Larsen this November?"

THEN AGAIN AT THE END, AFTER RESPONDENTS READ HIS FULL BIO:

Jonny Larsen is a United States Marine combat veteran who served from 2000 - 2004 in the infantry, earned the rank of Sergeant, and completed two tours in Iraq. Born and raised in Utah, Jonny went through foster care and eventually lived with his grandmother who raised him. He has worked since age 12, delivering newspapers and later at the old Crossroads Mall. His most recent position was an IT professional before using his GI Bill towards a math and physics degree at the University of Utah.

"Knowing this about Jonny's background, how likely are you to vote for him this November?"

JONNY LARSEN'S STATEMENT ABOUT THE INTERNAL SURVEY

My campaign ran this survey. It is a snapshot in time, and we do not claim it is a prediction. Read like a focus group, it shows how much I moved voters once they knew more about me.

So many voters have told me they feel their voice doesn't matter and their representatives don't listen. More than 6 in 10 respondents are dissatisfied with Rep. Kennedy's performance, including nearly half of Republicans. People of every party want something new. They want someone who understands the challenges they face, with the courage to listen and the integrity to do what is right.

We asked the same question twice, "How likely are you to vote for Jonny Larsen this November?" once at the start, and again at the end after respondents had read a short bio. Among undecided voters, those likely to vote for me more than tripled, from 14.1% to 47.3%. Among Republicans, it rose from 35.9% to 51.2%. One in three who first said they were unlikely to vote for me changed their answer, and one in five moved all the way to likely.

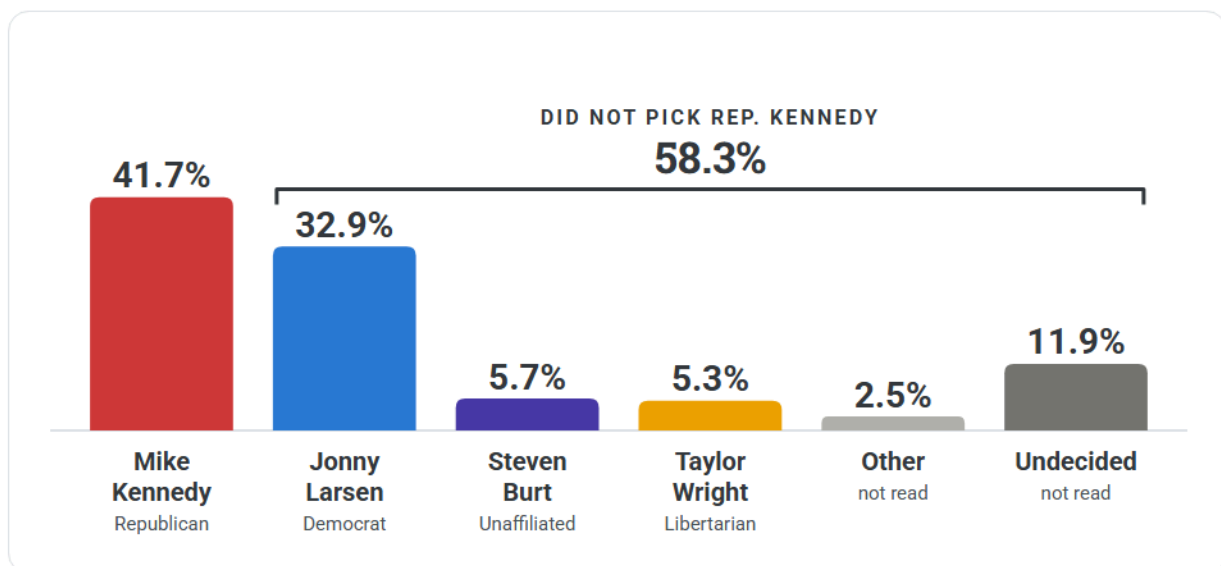

I don't want us to be a country coming apart; rather, I want us to be a country coming together. Governor Cox asks us to disagree better. I believe we also need to agree better because we are more alike than politicians or the news want us to think. I want to work on the 90% of things we agree on instead of fighting over the 10% we don't.

About this survey: This is an internal survey of registered voters in Utah's 4th Congressional District by Jonny Larsen For Congress, which sent the text invitations to an online survey: 246,322 sent and 220,510 delivered, Aug. 27 to Sept. 9, 2026; the survey closed Sept. 13. 1,854 people answered; these results are the 1,270 who completed every question and are confirmed to live in the district, weighted to match the district's active registered voters on the voter file by party registration, age, sex and county. Each response counts as follows, where 1.00 is one person: party, Republican 0.99, Democratic 0.81, Unaffiliated 1.16, other parties 0.86; age, 18 to 35 2.51, 36 to 45 0.95, 46 to 55 0.91, 56 and over 0.64; sex, men 0.84, women 1.21; county, Salt Lake 0.90, Utah 1.16, Tooele 0.99, Sanpete 0.93, Sevier 1.03, Juab 0.78, Millard 1.13. The margin of error is $\pm 3.34\%$ at 95 percent confidence, including the effect of weighting. Each card shows its question exactly as worded, and the bio respondents read before the last question.

NEARLY 6 IN 10 RESPONDENTS DID NOT PICK REP. KENNEDY

THEY ASKED

"If the election for the US House of Representatives were held today, which of the following candidates would you vote for in 4th congressional district? Would you vote for..."

Striking distance: In 2018, Salt Lake County Mayor Ben McAdams trailed Rep. Mia Love by 9.2 points in the Debate Commission's 4th District poll, then won the seat. Jonny Larsen, who has never held office, trails Rep. Kennedy by 8.8.
